LABOR DAY WILL SEE MANY BOUTS OF TOP NOTCHES

New York, Aug. 21.—Labor Day will see the annual awakening of the prizefighters. Just why the boxers, who toil not neither do they spin, to any great extent, should choose this day is not apparent, but they do.

Upon this day and date Charlie White, the leaden-footed lightweight of Chicago and Liverpool, will try to knock Freddie Welsh, the nimble-footed lightweight champion, in a twenty-round race. George Chaney will earnestly endeavor to find the elusive chin of Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight champion. Francis Charles Moran will take off his coat and try to scatter Carl Morris, the Sapulpa Giant, over the Oklahoma sky line. In the quaint little borough of Brooklyn Shamus Coffey, pride of County Roscommon, Ireland, and County Bronx, New York, will try to eliminate, pulverize or otherwise dispose of Ernest Outer Price, who is more generally known as Jack the Giant Killer.

Thus the dignity of labor will be upheld with a variety of left jabs and right crosses. Minor pugilists of all weights, classes and various states of servitude will be seen and heard in various rings upon the same day.

REM-ARMS BEAT COLONIALS AGAIN

The Colonials were defeated by the Remington Arms Co. nine of Bridgeport on the Lighthouse grounds yesterday afternoon 2 to 0. From the time they stepped on the field to go through a very ragged fielding practice until Pete Wilson tossed out the last man in the ninth the Colonials looked very, very bad, in fact they put up their poorest exhibition of the past two seasons. Only the sensational work of Funnally in the box, who made a decided hit with the crowd, held the Remingtons to their two scores, the big fellow pulling out of holes which his teammates had dug for him continually. Two hits and no scores tell the story of the Colonial offensive for the day.

Pete Wilson had the Colonials standing on their respective heads most of the afternoon.

The game itself dragged along with both pitchers pulling out of holes again until the break came in the seventh. Brandon doubled after Wilson had fanned. Sherwood hit to Pete Funnally, who fumbled the ball long enough for the runner to reach first and Brandon third. Funnally, then, and H. Funnally, as though Funnally would pull out again but Waters threw wild to center field in an effort to catch Sherwood stealing, and both runners scored when the ball bounded over Brown's shoulder.

CONNIE MACK IS DEAN OF MANAGERS IN BIG LEAGUES THIS SEASON

Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, is dean of the major league managers, both in respect to age and in service as a big league pilot. The tall tactician reached this earth eighteen months in advance of Wilbert Robinson, and was a fast set manager a full two years before George Stallings.

Mack first directed the play of a major league team on September 3, 1894. He succeeded Al Buckenberger as boss of the Pirates, who showed their appreciation of the choice in Detroit by maintaining the Senators, 12 to 1, in the first game under Mack's direction. Jim McGuire, a manager in Cleveland and Boston and a private in Detroit, did the coaching for Washington in the game in which Mack first donned the managerial togs.

Of the present bosses, George Stallings was the next to be placed in command of the team. He took charge of the Phillies in 1897, and they started his reign off successfully by defeating Boston. John McGraw grabbed the reins of the Orioles two years later, and they made his debut a success by trimming New York, 6 to 3.

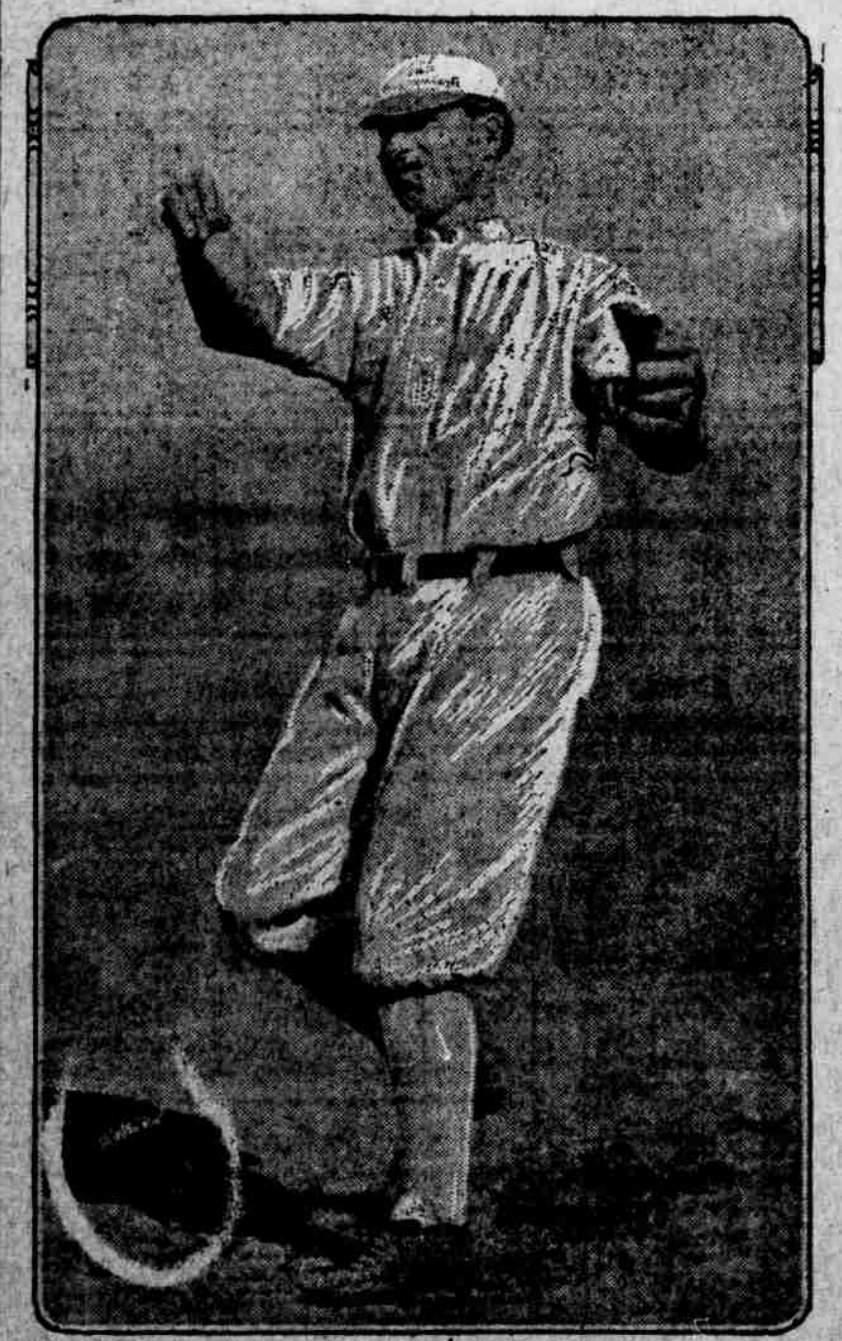

"Old Fox" Griffith became a fast set commander in 1901, when the American League put through its expansion movement in the East, and Wilbert Robinson was elevated to the "boss of the mighty" the next year after McGraw, at his own request, had been released by Baltimore and after Joe Kelley, present Yankee scout, his successor had hurried to Cincinnati. Under Griffith, the White Sox won their first game, 4 to 2, and under Robby the Oriole, lost theirs, 4 to 3, the respective opponents of Chicago and Baltimore being Cleveland and St. Louis.

In 1903 Jim Callahan took the reins of the privates and headed the White Sox, who started off by annihilating the Browns, 14 to 1. "Cal" resigned in June of the following year and Fielder Jones succeeded him as the responsible party with the White Sox, who made his bow successful by defeating the White Elephants, 14 to 3.

Hugh Jennings became boss of the Tigers in 1907, and they started off by beating Cleveland, 2 to 0. In 1913 Miller Huggins took charge of the Cardinals and Joe Tinker of the Reds. On July 16 of that year Bill Carrigan took charge of the Red Sox. The Cards won from Chicago, 5 to 3, in their first game under Huggins; the Reds lost to Pittsburgh, 2 to 2, in their first under Tinker, and the Red Sox won from Detroit, 7 to 4, in the first game under Carrigan.

Charles Herzog took charge of the Reds in 1914, and they started off under him by beating Chicago, 10 to 1. New commanders at the start of last season were Bill Donovan, of the Yanks, and Clarence Rowland, of the White Sox. The New Yorks lost their first under Donovan to Washington, 7 to 0; the Chicagoans won theirs under Rowland from St. Louis, 7 to 4. Sent to 3 also was the score of the first game the Indians played under Fohl, on May 23, Cleveland getting the 7 and Washington the 6.

PITCHER SCOTT TIRED OF BASEBALL MAY QUIT DIAMOND

Chicago, Aug. 19.—According to rumors now in circulation among the White Sox players, Jim Scott, Clarence Rowland's veteran twirler, will be missing from the lineup next season, not because the Sox are anxious to part with his services, but it is said that James is tired of baseball and will retire and go into business.

THRILLING RALLY IN 14TH GIVES LOCAL TEAM TIE BATTLE

(By Wagner.)

There is a strong odor of arnica and witch hazel around the Bridgeport club just now. Howie Baker hobbles about with a Charley horse to keep him company. Jake Warner has a spike wound in the foot and Otto Deininger is not feeling any too spry. But the boys are staying in the trenches just the same and yesterday at Newfield park they held New Haven to a 14 inning tie. When the day's work was done each team had three runs and the fans had an appetite.

Considering the patched up team Bridgeport did well to keep the enemy in check. Pat Dugan held down second in good style and when Howie Baker was removed to make way for a pinch hitter, Blake went to third and Walsh to right. The contest was a duel between Shanty House and Weaver of New Haven with honors even.

House started as if wildness would lay him low. He passed three in the first two sessions, but steadied after that and had good control in the other innings. His one lapse was in the 13th when he gave Chouinard three straight balls. Then he had to groove a couple and the Elm City batters turned the tide to right. In the 14th House scored the tying run. Baker hobbled to depart downcast when Bridgeport staged a fighting finish. Blake shot a single over second and Dugan sacrificed. Deininger made the second out on a grounder and things looked dark. Howie Baker sent a towering fly over Nutter's head and amid the plaudits of the throng Blake scored the tying run. Baker hobbled to second but Moshier made the third out.

Weaver bothered Bridgeport considerably with his curve ball. He only gave seven hits, Baker and Moshier getting two each. Moshier fanned the first three times up. House allowed six hits.

It looked as if Bridgeport would win in nine innings when it put over a run in the eighth and forged ahead by 2 to 1. But in the ninth Bressler singled with one down and Moshier played Devine's hit poorly, allowing Bressler to tie the score. The teams battled without result until the 13th. Neither could tally in the 14th and the contest was called. The score:

ALAS, POOR BODIE! MACKMEN GET HIM

San Francisco, Aug. 21.—"Pier" Bodie, leading batsman of the Pacific Coast league and San Francisco outfielder, will be a member of the Philadelphia American league team next season, according to an announcement last night by Harry Wolverton, manager of the San Francisco club.

FINE TROPHY FOR COPS WHO SECURE HONORS AT OUTING

The baseball game between the East Bridgeport and West Side members of the police department was one of the features of the outing to be held under the auspices of the Police Society Benefit association at Pheasant Beach next Saturday. This is one of the many attractions, which also include boxing and wrestling bouts for state champions. Entries for the different events are coming in from all over the state so exciting sport is assured.

Interest in the baseball game has been increased by the donation of a silver loving cup, standing 18 inches high, by the police commissioners. It has been inscribed and placed on exhibition in the window of a Main street store. Captain Charles H. Suckley is daily receiving letters from the police chiefs in other cities of the state telling of the interest being taken by the men in their departments and assuring that large delegations will take part in the field day Saturday.

Short Sections of Fan Fodder

EASTERN BATTING LEADER.

Pat Maloney, the fleet, outfielder of the Worcester club, is making a great effort to gain the batting leadership of the Eastern league. He is hitting .326 while Hammond, the slugging Springfield youngster, is going at a .328 clip. Jack Egan of this city is the nominal leader with .333, but the Springfield backstop has taken part in only 35 games. There are only 1,300 hitters and not one of these is a Bridgeport player.

House for Toronto.

Shanty House, who has made a fine record as a Bridgeport pitcher this season, will graduate to the International league as a member of the Toronto club next year. The Toronto management has picked House, according to an agreement by which it had the pick of the local club in return for sending Neal Ball here. In addition Bridgeport had to pay $500 for Ball. House has won ten and lost five this season, the best record of any of the local hurlers. Walsh has won nine of his last ten games and has a record of ten won and nine lost. He was weak in the early part of the campaign, though.

The next home game will take place Friday when Lawrence plays here. It will be ladies' day and the fair fans will be admitted free to grounds and stand.

Ping Bodie believes in Simon Legree and baseball slavery now. He worked like a dog to get another chance in the big show and then the San Francisco club went and sold him to the Athletics.

The best catch of the season was made by Joe Briggs at Newfield park yesterday afternoon. In the sixth Moose Miller rammed a liner between center and right. It was sailing for a three bagger when Briggs ran across lots, stuck out his gloved hand and got the ball a short distance above the ground. Briggs was going so fast that he was in deep right field before he could stop. He received a big ovation from the fans.

Capt. Deininger asked Manager Danny Murphy of New Haven to allow Baker a runner in the 13th but Murphy refused. He said he had been criticized for doing it in previous games. That was why Walsh was put in to run for Baker.

Joe Briggs couldn't get a hit against Weaver of New Haven. After sending up a fly for the third time he was so disgusted that he kicked over the water pail and gave Mike Flaherty a shower bath.

Kumagai, the Japanese tennis wonder, says he has heard much about the American sense of fair play but never realized what it was until he had competed against Americans. He declares Uncle Sam's boys are so fair they cheat themselves.

The highbrow atmosphere of Boston hasn't improved the Boston Braves to any extent. President Britton of the St. Louis Nationals claims some of the Braves moved via language to him Saturday when he refused to allow them to use a certain gate.

The Giants are just the same no matter where the trains take them. They can lose in St. Louis as well as Chicago. McGraw must be a pleasant company to have around just now.

KUMAGAE NOT LIKELY TO GET TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP

Experts Do Not Think Jap Can Come Through in National Tournament.

New York, Aug. 21.—Following the defeat of William M. Johnston, the national title holder, by Kumagai in the final at Newport last Saturday, some of the journalistic onlookers went on record with the statement that we were facing the danger of having a Japanese mount to the zenith of our tennis firmament at Forest Hills next month.

Kumagai will very likely get some-where near the zenith, but he will never attain it this year. If the truth must be told, Kumagai himself does not expect to reach it. Nobody is more surprised than Kumagai himself by the success he has thus far achieved in this country. He appreciates the strength Johnston wasted in the first two sets was wanting and the harder Japanese won.

Johnston is not overstrong at his best, but just now he seems to have hit the ebb of his endurance, just as he did in the Southampton tournament last year, when he was defeated by Theodore R. Pell in the semi-final round.

Kumagai defeated Johnston in five sets at Newport, but if they were to meet again tomorrow the champion would again be a strong favorite.

Two base hit, Baker. Three base hit, Chouinard. Stolen bases, Chouinard, Baker, Blake, Miller, Sacrifice hits, Horkheimer and Dugan. Double plays, House to Horkheimer to Deininger, Blake to Horkheimer. Left on bases, Bridgeport 5, New Haven 7. First base on errors, Bridgeport 1, New Haven 1. Bases on balls, 11 House 5, 6 Weaver 3. Struck out by House 7, by Weaver 3. Sacrifice hits, House 1, Baker 1, Devine 1, Impres, Warner and Donovan, Time, 3 hours.

CUBS MAY SEND HEINE ZIMMERMAN TO BROOKLYN CLUB

Chicago, Aug. 21.—Heine Zimmerman may become a member of the Robins today. Charles H. Ebbets, owner of the Brooklyn club and Charles Weeghman, president of the Cubs, held a long conference yesterday morning, and it is believed that the deal is as good as made.

In regard to Zimmerman, if the deal goes through, the Cubs will get Gus Getz, the silent third baseman, to take Zimmerman's place; a pitcher and a bundle of cash. It was said that the money part is holding up the deal. This will be straightened out. Heine may even play against his old team this afternoon.

Zimmerman will be stationed at first base until Jake Daubert returns. The captain of the Brooklyn team reported here, but his injured leg is still bothering him and it will be some time before he is able to play again.

TRIANGLES BEATEN BY OZANAM'S BALL TEAM

Playing one of the best all around games the season, the fast Ozanam club yesterday defeated with ease the star Triangle nine leaders of the Inter-Department league of the Remington Arms Co.

Chris O'Brien, late of the Clovers but now of the Ozanams, delighted the crowd with the stealing of bases in Ty Cobb style. In every inning
